

New book from our member & well-known cybersecurity expert – Assoc. Prof. Zlatogor Minchev as a leading author & editor – “Future Digital Society Resilience in the Informational Age”, ISBN 978-954-334-221-1 (<https://bit.ly/38eJu7D>) published at the end of year 2019 and officially granted to the Association of the Officers in the Reserve “Atlantic” Chairman – Col. Vilis Turov in June, 2020 (during the annual General Assembly). The work is edited jointly by SoftTrade Publishing House & Institute of ICT, Bulgarian Academy of Sciences with invited foreword by one of our founders – Assoc. Prof. Velizar Shalamanov. The book combines the efforts of nine experienced and young researchers united along the initiative

Securing Digital Future 21 (<http://securedfuture21.org/>, encompassing about 50 countries throughout the 5 continents) in the field of digital society modelling and analysis via complex systems with probabilistic validation and mixed reality verification. Multiple digital society transformation aspects have been studied towards year 2033, including: social, political & diplomatic digital transformations, future media, fake news, artificial intelligence, cryptocurrencies, tech innovations investment trends, cyber security & education. An epilogue from the editor on the future quantum era is finally presented to the readers.